The Legacy

Amon G. Carter grumbled and protested as he stomped to the phone, but as the city leader held the receiver to his ear, he grew quiet, only occasionally letting out a meek “Yes, Mrs. Pope.”

Lena Pope was a force for good in Tarrant County – a force to be reckoned with. She was tireless in her work to provide good homes for orphaned children, adamant about keeping families together, and had an uncanny ability to secure the support of powerful Fort Worth leaders like Amon Carter, Marvin and Obie Leonard, C.A. Lupton, Leo Potishman, William Monnig, and many other generous families.

Now, more than 80 years later, Lena Pope Home carries on her legacy through counseling and education programs that strengthen families and provide children with strong foundations. To continue this work, Mrs. Pope is calling on you.

The Need

It’s a time of growth for Lena Pope Home. To meet changing community needs, we need to expand and enhance our facilities for counseling and education. A Capital Campaign – only the third in our history – is crucial. The total goal for the campaign is $12.5 million.

Construct a Counseling & Support Center to provide more counseling

The layout of the building we currently lease for counseling services makes it impossible to provide total privacy and serve more families and individuals. Lena Pope Home will build a new main campus facility for additional counseling, therapy and support services.

Develop a State-of-the-Art Early Learning Center

There is currently no accredited early childhood learning center that accepts child care subsidies within the zip code of Lena Pope Home’s main campus or the four surrounding zip codes.

Lena Pope Home will construct a new state-of-the-art Early Learning Center on the main campus to provide full-time care for more than 100 young children up to age five.

Expand Chapel Hill Academy to serve more students

Word of mouth has generated enough interest to fill Chapel Hill Academy to capacity, with a growing list of students on the waiting list.

Lena Pope Home has expanded the current facilities to add 5th grade in 2012, and continues to serve more students at every grade level.
History repeats itself, but not often in the life of capital campaigns at Lena Pope Home. Our founder, Mrs. Lena Pope, was in a continual state of raising money to fulfill her dream of housing and caring for orphans. Our second and last Capital Campaign in 1980 was successful in providing new structures to continue caring for mostly adolescent children on and off our campus with a school and recreation building, the Richardson Education Center, a Donor’s Dining Hall, and the Mabee Administration building.

Throughout our 83 years, our mission to care for children of all ages has never wavered or changed. Our flexibility and willingness to meet the most pressing needs of the time has led us down a steady path. Now our campaign is focusing on Chapel Hill Academy, our Early Childhood Learning Center, and at the same time expanding our children and family counseling programs.

Times may have changed, but true to fulfilling Mom Pope’s dream, we are staying the course of bringing hope, happiness, and success to the children who need us. We are asking our generous and supportive donors to say “Yes, Mrs. Pope,” as they have done throughout the history of Lena Pope Home.
Today at Lena Pope Home

Glenn Darden, Campaign Chair

Almost two years ago I was honored to be asked to chair the Capital Campaign for Lena Pope Home. This was to be only the third capital campaign in the 83-year history of Lena Pope Home. Certainly, that speaks to the proficiency and stewardship this organization is known for.

Today we are over two-thirds of the way to achieving our $12.5 million goal and now begin the public phase of the fund drive. It has been a privilege to witness the generosity of so many, beginning with the 100% participation of our board, and grants from our region’s outstanding foundations, all of whom have the common goal of assisting Lena Pope Home with its mission of helping disadvantaged children and families.

Our target is to expand Chapel Hill Academy, the Early Learning Center, and upgrade facilities for counseling and therapy. With these expansions we believe we can have better resources to both reach and improve the lives of more children.

We ask for your support in this final public phase of the campaign. With your help we will answer Mrs. Pope’s question with a resounding, “Yes!”

With a rich history of service in our community, Lena Pope Home is well positioned to build upon that legacy with a bright future dedicated to helping children and families. The “Yes, Mrs. Pope” Capital Campaign will effectively enable us to make even greater strides in the services provided to the children and families who need it the most in our neighborhoods.

With our very youngest children, the expanded Early Learning Center will be able to serve over 100 children (more than doubling the number now served) and expand the ages we serve to infants and toddlers – resulting in more young children ready to succeed in Kindergarten and beyond.

At Chapel Hill Academy charter school, the Capital Campaign means that over 500 children per year (Pre-K through 5th grade) will be able to receive individualized learning instruction in a state of the art campus designed not only with the students in mind but their parents as well.

With the improved and expanded counseling center, families and children who have nowhere else to turn for counseling and therapy will no longer have to wait months for services. More than 1,000 more families and children will be able to be served each year with our expanded and best practice environment. The result – more successful children and families who don’t need high cost and traumatic interventions such as hospitalization or removal of the children from their homes.

With the “Yes, Mrs. Pope” Capital Campaign, the ultimate end result is not only new facilities but, more importantly, a community with more children and families filled with hope, happiness, and success.
I have personally been involved with Lena Pope Home facilities for almost 30 years, going all the way back to the original administration building and group homes in 1980, including permit and administration assistance to Fay Jones and Maurice Jennings on the Marty Leonard Community Chapel. It is such a pleasure to continue that involvement and commitment to the organization another step. Our firm is ecstatic about the opportunity to be a participant in the continuation of this building program. We have pulled together an exceptional team to carry this dream forward, including one of our architects who is the son of a Lena Pope graduate, a true Lena Pope family effort at many levels.

We have considered the new building, with its re-centralization of Lena Pope functions into a single facility, as a bookend to the overall campus — with the Marty Leonard Chapel as the other. Consequently there will be several references to the Chapel in orientation, exterior materials and supporting uses all collected around the centerpiece of the new building: a protected, multi-use courtyard representing the front door and main entrance to the Lena Pope Campus.

Chapel Hill Academy enrolled its first class of Pre-K, Kindergarten and first grade students in the Fall of 2008. Since then, it has expanded twice. Now serving students through fifth grade, Chapel Hill Academy provides a structured and innovative environment built on the belief that all children can excel, and their time at CHA is their first step toward a college degree. In addition to more classrooms, the expanded facilities include a science lab, gymnasium, computer lab, library and a multipurpose ‘cafetorium’. Through the power of a positive learning environment, the students are given a strong foundation that will prepare them for a future of success.

“After forty years of service, I continue to see the willingness of Lena Pope Home to change the programs to meet the needs of the community. With the leadership of the board and the dedication of the staff, I know this new building will enable us to continue to serve the mission of helping children and families.”
Will Rodgers

Lena Pope Home celebrates its progression from a home for children to an organization spanning family counseling, a K-5 Public Charter School and its new Early Learning Center. It is a testament to the ever changing needs of a community and the leadership and vision of its members. As a part of the Lena Pope Home Young Professional Advocates, I’ve been blessed to get to know many of the members who make up this organization; whether it be a fifth grade pen pal, a teacher at Chapel Hill Academy, or a member of the Finance Committee, everyone is dedicated to doing their part. I’ve watched my father and grandfather both serve alongside many other dedicated individuals whose desire is for Mrs. Pope’s mission to continue on. It’s been 83 years since Lena Pope began, and I look forward to answering the call like many before, “Yes, Mrs. Pope.”

There comes a day in the life of any organization when its mission is strengthened by new bricks and mortar. For Lena Pope Home, that day is now.

Just as Mrs. Pope saw her campus grow and evolve on one of Fort Worth’s best loved hill tops, we also have the privilege to break new ground, and witness the power of a united community, working together for the sake of its children and families.

Please be among the first who say, “Yes, Mrs. Pope.” To learn more, please call Marilyn Sammons at (817) 255-2606, or visit our website at lenapopehome.org
ABOUT LENA POPE HOME

The mission of Lena Pope Home is to help create hope, happiness, and success for children and families. When it started in 1930, Lena Pope Home was a home for orphans and children in need in Fort Worth. Lena Pope Home has since evolved to meet the changing needs of our community. Our focus is on empowering families to stay together. We do this by focusing on two program areas: Counseling and Education.

COUNSELING

Family Matters Counseling offers counseling services for children, adolescents, adults and families. Individual and group counseling is available covering such issues as parenting skills, depression, anxiety, truancy, and substance abuse. Counseling locations are in Fort Worth, Arlington, Hurst, Weatherford and Granbury. The goal of Family Matters Counseling is to give every participant the hope for a productive life. Family Matters Counseling also provides a vast array of services designed to help families stay together and be successful, including comprehensive in-home services, intensive case management for Family Drug Court families, Substance Abuse Treatment, and skills based groups for first offender/at risk populations referred by local municipalities.

EDUCATION

In 2008, Lena Pope Home opened a public charter school, Chapel Hill Academy (CHA). In the 2010-2011 school year, CHA included grades Pre-Kindergarten through 3rd grade, with plans to add a grade level each year up to 5th grade in 2012-13. Chapel Hill Academy offers a tuition-free quality education for each student so that they may reach their full potential. Lena Pope Home also partners with Tarrant County Juvenile Services for the Juvenile Justice Alternative Education Program which provides quality alternative education for local students referred by the courts. While attending our program, the students learn behavioral, social, and career-building skills to help them grow academically and be successful in their home schools. With these programs, Lena Pope Home continues the mission started over 80 years ago of giving children a solid foundation and support for a promising future.
Community Impact 2011-2012 Outcomes

We have impacted thousands of individuals as we pursued our mission to help create hope, happiness and success for children and families. We serve our community by focusing on these key areas: prevention, early intervention, education, and counseling.
